

Users have a name, a login, password, and an email. They have an address composed of a street, a city, a state, and a zip.

Each user can have multiple credit cards. Credit cards have a card number, and expiration date, and a cvv. A credit card must be associated with a user.

Users buy items, which have an item number, a name, a description, a price, and a quantity on hand. An item can come from several different manufacturers. A manufacturer has a website URL, several emails, a mailing address, and a unique name.

